

MTEI INTERNSHIPS | BRINGING YOU THE BEST & BRIGHTEST

Sobey School of Business

Saint Mary's University

Looking to make impact with purpose?

Internships are one of our most effective career immersion activities for our Master of Technology Entrepreneurship and Innovation (MTEI) students. This collaborative partnership will introduce you to graduate students from the Sobey School of Business. You will gain a fresh perspective from students who have an innovative mindset, brimming with expertise and a global perspective.

- Develop digital growth strategies
- Research innovative approaches
- Help build past the start-up phase
- Analyze data & business practices
- Create e-commerce solutions
- Redefine business plans & goals

Employer Testimonials

"We needed someone with a good understanding of data, good with technology, with an innovative mindset. In our business, logistics and transportation, it's quite helpful to have employees from another culture, from another city, from another part of the world. It's definitely seen as an attribute. The MTEI program put the icing on the cake. These are mature students who have been in the workforce. They aren't thinking about yesterday's jobs, they're thinking about the jobs of the future, and they're prepared for what's ahead. Our student's personal discipline and their cultural diversity were just what we needed to be successful in starting up our Halifax office."

— Karen Oldfield, Strategic Advisor, Warehouse Transport Group

“They came and exhibited good business acumen, problem-solving, resilience, innovative thinking, negotiation, teamwork, and understanding customer experiences. As an organization we had a first-hand glimpse of their individual and collective talents and we all grew from the engagement, I learned as much as they did! If you’re considering bringing an intern from the MTEI program into your organization, you’re not going to be disappointed. The students I had the honour of hiring with were dedicated, talented and a pleasure to work with.”

— Gary Cox, Sr. Associate, Barrington OPS, A Division of Barrington Consulting
