

This article is available in print format at SMU.

The print journals are located on the third floor of the library and are shelved alphabetically by the journal title.

For example, if you are looking for the Journal of Economic Literature, look for the area with journals that begin with J and browse the shelves until you find the exact title you are looking for.

Once you have found your journal, identify the volume, issue, and/or year that you need.

Journals on the third floor may be borrowed for seven (7) days.
